Summer Scams

These days, you can't travel and let your electronic guard down. Here are a few popular scams they need to watch out for:

- Fake Free Wi-Fi Network that you find when you look for access and it has the hotel's name. Verify with the hotel before logon on to "free Hotel Wi-Fi".
- Fake Software Update where a traveler sees an "Update-popup" for a popular software product. Click on it and malware installs. Always update laptops before you leave and never update while you travel.
- Pizza Delivery Scam where you find a flyer slipped under your hotel door. When you call to order, they take your card data but never deliver because the flyer was a scam. Get food recommendations from the concierge!
- Late Night Hotel Front Desk Call where you get a call alerting you there is a problem with your credit card and please verify the number. Except it's a scammer who now has your number and needs some more info to make a fake duplicate card. Especially when you travel, never give out credit card information if you did not initiate the call!
